APOS

Dear Friends,

the Association for Pediatric Oral Surgery (APOS) was established as a meeting place for those who want to share their experience and solutions in the field of children's oral surgery and in that of orthodontic patients. Growing patients have received growing attention in the last years: Pedodontics has made giant steps and cooperation between surgeons and orthodontists has been enhanced. Oral surgery in young patients is not minor surgery, as it presents a number of complexities concerning psychological aspects, the need for a multidisciplinary approach, growth expectations and age-specific developmental disorders. General anaesthesia is less employed for oral surgery due to a more careful psychological approach, to the evolution of local anaesthesia and sedation techniques, but even more to the new surgical techniques, that have to be customised according to the specific pathologies of young patients.

APOS Convention 2018

The attention of pediatric surgeons is centred on the child.

The attention of the Congress organising committee is the attendee.

This Congress has been designed to provide information useful to improve clinical practice.

The congress lecture will be centred on the clinical aspects and based on the clinical experience of the lecturer, on the critical appraisal of the literature, and on the contributions of the attendees.

The program is intended to answer a series of clinically relevant questions. You can suggest further questions related to any of the topics covered by the program: just mail your question to apos.firenze@gmail.com.

APOS is eager to establish a dialogue with the fellows even after the Congress, seizing the opportunities offered by the web (see the Facebook link) and by a series of satellite courses that are being programmed.
